

ALEXIS MARIE YARBROUGH
General Counsel
Florida Dept. of Transportation

Alexis Marie Yarbrough serves as General Counsel for the Florida Department of Transportation, a multibillion dollar state agency responsible for providing a safe and efficient transportation system.

Among her many responsibilities Yarbrough was actively involved with the commuter rail issue during the 2008 legislative session and continues to be on the leading edge in the development of the public private partnership concept.

Prior to joining the department, Yarbrough was a director with the Fort Lauderdale law firm of Tripp Scott, where she focused her practice on commercial litigation.

Her extensive litigation experience in both state and federal courts for governmental and private sector clients lead to her recognition as an “Up and Coming Legal Elite” by Florida Trend Magazine.

Yarbrough holds a law degree from Nova Southeastern University, where she was a member of the Moot Court Honor Society and the Order of Barristers, and a bachelor’s degree with honors in economics from the University of Miami.
